

The exciting way to buy and sell homes

The property market is ever changing and with over 85% of buyers searching for their new home on the internet, what they see has to be inviting and exciting. People expect more, people want more.

Videoettes use your existing photographs, enhanced with a professional voiceover and royalty free music to create an engaging experience for buyers to enjoy. Videoettes really do bring a property to life.

Benefits

The Vendor

They are able to reach potential buyers in a way they never thought possible. Videoettes really put the 'sell' into marketing a home.

The Buyer

Excitement; the experience of sound and vision brings a home to life. The videoettes create a feel for the property and offer 'Lifestyle' making it easier for the buyer to imagine themselves living there.
